1. NATURE AND CONTINUANCE OF OPERATIONS

BRS Ventures Ltd. (the "Company") was incorporated pursuant to the provisions of the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) on June 8, 2007. The Company is classified as a capital pool company as defined by TSX Venture Exchange Policy 2.4 ("Policy 2.4"). On January 31, 2008, the Company received a final receipt for a prospectus and became a reporting issuer in British Columbia. The Company completed its initial public offering on February 29, 2008. The Company's objective is to complete a Qualifying Transaction ("QT") as defined under Policy 2.4 by identifying and evaluating potential business acquisitions and to subsequently negotiate acquisition or participation agreements subject to regulatory and shareholder approvals.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which assumes that the Company will be able to meet its obligations and continue its operations for its next fiscal year. These financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that may be necessary to the carrying values of the Company's assets and the classifications of its assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to generate future profitable operations and/or obtain the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Significant areas requiring the use of estimates relate to accrued liabilities and valuation allowance for future tax assets. While management believes these estimates are reasonable, actual results could differ from these estimates and could affect future results of operations and cash flows.

(b) Future income taxes

The Company accounts for potential future net tax assets which are attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and which are measured using tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be settled. When the future realization of income tax assets does not meet the test of being more likely than not to occur, a valuation allowance in the amount of the potential future benefit is taken and no net asset is recognized. Such an allowance has been applied to all potential income tax assets of the Company.

(c) Share capital

Common shares issued for non-monetary consideration are recorded at their fair market value based initially upon the trading price of the Company's shares on the TSX Venture Exchange ("the Exchange") on the date of the agreement to issue the shares or, for subsequent issues, the date of share issuance.

Costs incurred to issue shares are deferred until the shares are issued, at which time these costs are charged to share capital.

(d) Stock-based compensation

The Company records compensation associated with stock options granted using a fair value measurement basis and records the expense when the options vest with the recipients.

The proceeds received by the Company on the exercise of options are credited to share capital.

(e) CICA Handbook Section 1535 – Capital Disclosures

This standard requires disclosure of an entity's objectives, policies and processes for managing capital, quantitative data about what the entity regards as capital and whether the entity has complied with any capital requirements and, if it has not complied, the consequences of such non-compliance. The Company has a simple capital structure and therefore this standard has had no impact on its financial statement disclosures.

(f) Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments include cash and accounts payable and accrued liabilities. Cash and cash equivalents are designated as held-for-trading. All other financial instruments are other financial liabilities and are recorded at cost. The fair value of these financial instruments approximates their carrying value due to their short term nature and capacity for prompt liquidation.

Canadian accounting standards require all financial instruments to be classified into one of the following five categories: held for trading, held-to-maturity investments, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets or other financial liabilities. All financial instruments within its scope, including derivatives, are to be included on the Company's balance sheet and measured either at fair value or, in certain circumstances when fair value may not be considered most relevant, at cost or amortized cost. Depending on the classification, changes in fair value are to be recognized in the statements of operations and comprehensive income.

All held-for-trading and available-for-sale financial instruments are recorded on the balance sheet at fair value. All other financial instruments will be recorded at cost or amortized cost, subject to impairment reviews. Transaction costs incurred to acquire held-for-trading financial instruments are recorded to the Statements of Operations. Transaction costs incurred to acquire all other financial instruments are included in the underlying balance.

Related required disclosures in connection with risks involving the Company's financial instruments are not currently applicable given the simple nature of these instruments.

(g) Hedges, CICA Section 3865

This standard is applicable when a company chooses to designate a hedging relationship for accounting purposes. The Company currently does not have any hedges.

(h) Comprehensive Income, CICA Section 1530

This standard requires the presentation of a statement of comprehensive income and its components.

Comprehensive income is the change in net assets that results from transactions, events and circumstances from sources other than shareholders and includes items such as unrealized gains or losses on available-for-sale investments. Accumulated other comprehensive income includes the holding gains and losses from available-for-sale securities which are not included in net income (loss) until realized. Section 1530 currently has no material impact on the Company's financial statements.

(i) Recent accounting pronouncements - International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS")

In February 2008 the Canadian Accounting Standards Board announced 2011 as the changeover date for publicly-listed companies to use IFRS, replacing Canada's own generally accepted accounting principles. The specific implementation is set for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011. The transition date of January 1, 2011 will require restatement for comparative purposes of amounts reported by the Company for the year ended October 31, 2011. While the Company has begun assessing the adoption of IFRS for 2011, the financial reporting impact of the transition to IFRS cannot be accurately determined at this time.

(j) Loss per share

Loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of common shares and common share equivalents outstanding during the period. Shares issuable upon the exercise of share purchase warrants and stock options were excluded from the computation of loss per share because their effect would be anti-dilutive. The Company calculates loss per share using the treasury stock method. Under the treasury stock method only instruments with exercise amounts less than market prices impact the diluted calculations.

Under that agreement BRS will provide funding to QTI at an agreed upon sum, which would be considered a loan if BRS does not obtain Exchange Approval for the qualifying transaction. 5. INCOME TAXES

No provision for recovery of income taxes was made in 2008 and 2007 because of the uncertainty as to the utilization of the losses for income tax purposes. The Company has accumulated losses for tax purposes of approximately $277,418 (October 31, 2008 - $149,400) which expire in various years to 2028 as follows:

As at July 31, 2009, the Company has undeducted share issuance costs totalling $32,000 (2007 - nil) which are available for deduction against future Canadian taxable income. Future income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for temporary differences between the carrying amount of the balance sheet items and their corresponding tax values as well as for the benefit of losses available to be carried forward to future years to offset taxable income.

6. CONTINGENCY

There is no assurance that the Company will identify and acquire a business or asset that warrants acquisition or participation within the time limitations permissible under the policies of the Exchange, at which time the Exchange may suspend or de-list the Company's shares from trading.
